10-DIGIT CAPABLE SOFTWARE

We understand you may be utilizing software that cannot accommodate the 10-digit input requirement. For that reason, we would like to suggest you visit the site listed below.

Optional software called inforad Wireless Office (IWO) is available and can meet the requirements of your new system. We invite you to get more information about this product and other inforad offerings by going to the Inforad internet site at http://www.inforad.com/erad027.html. At this time, IWO and several other products are available with free 30 day trial periods. We invite you to take this opportunity to try the product before making a commitment.
